

YourPay® Solution

First Data offers technology solutions to build, expand or enhance your electronic payment capabilities.

The Challenge

Consumers today expect your business not only to have an online presence but also to offer a convenient, secure e-commerce application, allowing them to shop anywhere, anytime. But offering e-commerce is a big step.

If you already have a site, expanding the functionality can also be a challenge. You may want a more flexible solution that you can tailor to your environment and fully integrate with your Web site and shopping cart application.

The Solution

The YourPay® solution can turn your Internet-ready PC into a point-of-sale (POS) device without installing any software. Plus, First Data stores the batches and cardholder data so you don't need to worry about data storage and security.

This solution also allows you to enable your Web site for e-commerce without worrying about upgrades, security, patches or changes in regulations since transactions are conducted through First Data servers.

Additionally, the YourPay solution offers a comprehensive programming tool for the merchant who needs a custom e-commerce solution, including Secure Sockets Layer (SSL) security and fraud protection tools.

Here's How It Works

Within the solution there are three primary features for you to choose from: the YourPay.com® virtual terminal, the YourPay Connect® sales order templates and the YourPay API® application programming interface.

YourPay.com lets you turn any PC into a POS terminal while you let First Data process the transaction and house the data for maximum security. With no software to install, merchants with administrative rights grant access to any number of users, who can then immediately begin taking orders and accepting credit, debit and electronic check transactions.

When you choose the YourPay Connect feature, your customers click "buy" on your Web site and are then connected, behind the scenes, to First Data for payment processing. This allows you to add e-commerce functionality to your Web site with minimal technical know-how. You choose which sales order template you want to use, while all sensitive payment data is handled by the SSL encryption feature of the YourPay solution.

YourPay API allows you to choose from shopping carts and process payments for any Web site or custom commerce application. Your customers never leave your Web site, and you take advantage of First Data payment processing capabilities.
